Organisation/Service Details

Organisation or Service
Sense Early Intervention and Play service

Description of activity
We help children between ages 0-8 years with complex disabilities, including deafblindness, to communicate, develop and connect with their families through free play sessions. Our sessions run throughout term time as well as in school holidays.

Play isn't just fun – it's important for a child's development, too. It helps disabled children learn communication skills and form connections with others. Our expert team of play leaders understand that and run targeted support programmes, drop-in sessions and holiday programmes, that are designed to develop children's skills through a range of play-based activities. We run a wide variety of sensory sessions which include messy play, crafts, sensory stories and much more!

Referral Criteria
We support children with complex disabilities. People with complex disabilities tend to have two or more of the following conditions:

Deaf or hearing impairment
Blind or vision impairment
Learning disability
Physical disability
Autism
Speech and Language Delay

They may have other needs as well as two or more of the above.
